Alliances with Mothers of the “Disappeared” in Mexico: The Challenges of Feminist Legal Anthropology in Times of the Crisis of Human Rights

Tuesday, November 6, 2018
5:00-7:00 pm
Peter Graham Scholarly Commons, 114 Bird Library

R. Aída Hernández Castillo, Scholar-Activist

Aída Hernandez-Castillo is Professor and Senior Researcher at the Center for Research and Advanced Studies in Social Anthropology (CIESAS) in Mexico City. Aída has worked with indigenous communities in the Mexican states of Chiapas, Guerrero and Morelos, with Guatemalan refugees and with African immigrants in the South of Spain. She is the author or editor of numerous books, most recently, Multiple InJustices, Indigenous Women, Law and Political Struggle in Latin America, (2017). She is the recipient of the Martin Diskin Oxfam Award for her activist research and the Simon Bolivar Chair at Cambridge University in 2013-2014.

Cosponsors: Latino-Latin American Studies Program, Program on Latin America and the Caribbean, and ...