

Environmental Storytelling CNY

Syracuse University's Engaged Humanities Network and SUNY ESF's Writing, Rhetoric, and Communications Program present an annual series of linked events, workshops, and courses engaging the impacts of the climate crisis on Central New York and interconnected ecosystems around the world.

Spring 2024

SAYLER/MORRIS

Forging Ecological Awareness Through Art SU Art Museum, Shaffer Hall

Sayler/Morris discuss how their artwork and others in SU Art Museum's current Assembly exhibition forge deeper ecological understandings of the places we share. Following the discussion attendees will be invited to join an interactive activity, mapping connections between artworks in the exhibit and their own personal senses of place.

March 7, 2024

6 - 7:30 PM

RSVP by March 1

To learn more, visit:
envirostorycny.com

JUAN FELIPE HERRERA

Crafting Poetic Futures

United States Poet Laureate Emeritus Juan Felipe Herrera leads a creative writing workshop for students of all ages. Herrera will discuss how his own poetic work connects with environmental concerns while pointing us toward methods of communal storytelling and repair.

La Casita Cultural Center

109 Otisco St.

April 3, 2024

5:30 - 7 PM

Cruel April Reading Series

In connection with the annual Point of Contact (POC) Cruel April Reading Series, Juan Felipe Herrera will read newly commissioned work featured in POC's Corresponding Voices publication.

Point of Contact Gallery

Nancy Cantor Warehouse

350 W Fayette St,

April 4, 2024

6 - 7:30 PM

